

Capture mircolearning and on-demand content from the web anytime, anywhere:

Rapidly develop skills and competencies as employees access content that meets their individual needs as and when required.

Make learning go viral by sharing content with peers and colleagues, or vice-versa:

Increase engagement through embedding a learning culture, enabling collaboration and knowledge sharing

Track and measure the benefits on an ongoing basis:

Ensure quality and consistency of content across the organisation - track engagement levels to understand the content employees really value

PageUp ← Learning Management

Modern-day learners have come to expect the consumer-centric technology that greatly enriches their learning experience. At the same time, organisations need to rapidly build employee speed-to-competence, and formal learning compliance requirements must be met. All this, while providing a seamless user experience for administrators, managers and employees.

PageUp Learning Management caters for all of this, enabling your organisation to develop and retain top talent through continuous learning opportunities. Our ONE central system drives culture of learning by providing a simple, mobile-optimised, employee-centric experience.

PageUp Learning Management empowers you to:

- Increase productivity and retention through engagement in learning via progressive technology with an elegant, consumer-centric experience
- Mitigate risk and ensure compliance through the automated delivery of learning content and the tracking of its completion
- Maximise agile responsiveness to business challenges through the removal of barriers to learning (Learning with PageUp is continuous, mobile-optimised and relevant)

PageUp's learning management system:

Grows with your organisation

It's flexible to support the learning needs of your organisation, from compliance through to everyday learning.

Is loved by employees and administrators alike

Mobile-driven and app-enabled tools allow for the everyday development of your employees through social, on-demand and microlearning options.

Extends across the employee lifecycle

Integrates into PageUp's Unified Talent Management solution, to unify workforce data and provide a consistent user experience and interface.

Key Features:

Easy to use, with a consumer-centric experience

The simple and intuitive overall design allows for high uptake and adoption rates by employees, managers and learning administrators alike.

Employee-led, informal Learning

The PageUp Everyday Learning app empowers employees to capture content from their favourite learning resources, add it to their development plans, as well as share it with colleagues.

Mobile-optimised

Facilitate learning whenever and wherever convenient to vour users on their device of choice, through our mobile-optimised module and smartphone app.

Scalable automation of role-based learning

Easily assign and automate specific role-based learning activities to streamline new employees' learning processes

Links seamlessly with the rest of PageUp's unified talent management suite

Employees can easily add learning activities to their development plans as part of the performance management process and can also be assigned learning activities within their onboarding workflows.

Houses diverse learning formats

PageUp's visually appealing Learning Library caters for all learning and teaching styles, from SCORM-compliant e-learning, and face-to-face training and events, to on-the-job development activities and recommended readings and videos. Utilise our content API to connect to your favourite content providers.

Full auditing and tracking capability

A full analytics suite and customised reporting help track completion of organisational compliance and development activities at any point in time, to mitigate organisational risk.

Ready to learn how PageUp can help you drive a culture of learning in your organisation?

Let's have a chat.

